

Bethany is worth supporting

- Story
- Discussion

Jessica Elizondo, Stephanie Quinn, Emily Hill, Kathleen Hoil, Elizabeth Rodl, Frank Agnoli, D.J. Hall | Posted: Friday, May 22, 2009 5:15 pm | (2) Comments

Font Size:

Default font size

Larger font size

As seniors at Assumption High School, we are required to do a service project. Most find it boring and a drag, but the trick is to find something that one can be passionate about and have fun with.

Our group decided to paint a wing of Bethany for Children and Families in Moline. The seven of us had a great time. It began as a search for a service project, but after a tour, we were amazed at how awesome the place is. It was an honor to help with Bethany's work, even with something as simple as painting walls.

Bethany programs include preventive education, pregnancy and parenting support services, teen parent services, juvenile justice diversion services, counseling and therapy and supervised visitations with locations in Carbon Cliff, Clinton, Davenport, Kewanee, Maquoketa, and Muscatine.

Bethany is 109 years old and is filled with amazing people and stories. Check them out and get involved. Take a tour, learn how you can adopt or foster children, make a donation or invite them to speak to your organization. Also, don't be afraid to ask for their help; their services are unparalleled.

Jessica Elizondo and Stephanie Quinn, Bettendorf; Emily Hill, Kathleen Hoil, Elizabeth Rodl and Frank Agnoli, Davenport; and D.J. Hall, Walcott

Posted in Mailbag on Friday, May 22, 2009 5:15 pm Updated: 5:14 pm.